

- 1890 Harry Andrews born on a farm in upstate New York.
- 1916 He was graduated from Colgate University where he studied Greek, Roman, and Egyptian architecture. During W.W.I. he attended Toulouse University in France.
- 1920's Andrews returned to Cincinnati and became a teacher in city and Sunday schools.
- 1927 He purchased the lot where the Castle would eventually be built. Organizing the Knights of the Golden Trail (based in part on Boy Scouts), he encouraged ideals of chivalry and Christianity. The boys belonging to the organization were divided into pages, squires and knights.
- 1929 Andrews began building the castle to permanently replace the "rapidly decaying" tents used for retreats. He worked at several jobs to support his efforts.
- 1955 Andrews retired, and began living at the site all year long. By October all walls were completed; by 1960 all the floors were finished. Most of the materials used were donated, or manufactured by Andrews and his knights.
- 1981 He died at the age of 91. The Knights continued to operate the castle.

Bibliography / references

Andrews, Harry 1969 Chateau Laroche Loveland: OH

Elkins, Bob 1979 "Harry, His Castle Stand in Defiance of Death, Time": The Cincinnati Enquirer, Nov. 18, 1979.

Manutses, Pete 1981. "Builder of Castle in Loveland, Harry Andrews, dies": Cincinnati Post and Times Star.
April 17, 1981

Stern Jane + Michael 1977. Amazing America.
New York: Random House.

CHATEAU
LAROCHÉ

Contacts / Sources

Hamilton County Courthouse
Court and Main Streets
Cincinnati, OH.

Knights of the Golden Trail c/o Nicholas Kurzynski, Curator
P.O. Box 135
Loveland, OH 45140