Dear Seymour:

I recently called Paul Galloway to talk to him about his father's concrete tee pee in Foyil Ok and was told by Mrs. Galloway that Paul had died two weeks ago.

I asked her plans for the park and she said she was unsure whether she would sell or try to save it. She was quite defensive since it has been neglected so long; I think she is most embarrassed about the tall grass. She said she and her children (ages unknown) would discuss it and I should call her back in a while. I did write her a letter reiterating our offer of help.

I thought you would be interested in this development. If you know of anyone who might be able to effectively intervene let them know. I am sending a copy to Mary Ann Anders also.

I would hope there would be someone in Oklahoma who would take some responsibility for working with the family. I think she is in a position to take some guidance right now. We thought we would call her in a few weeks and offer to come down for the weekend and mow the weeds and board up the windows in the buildings to stop some of the vandalism.

If you have any ideas let us know.

Sincerely,

Barbara Brackman
