Dear Seymour,

I had the Garden open last evening so people could see it in the moonlight. About thirty people were here. Also, another television station spent an hour or two interviewing me and the visitors. I enjoy sharing the Garden with enthusiastic people!

It is amazing to me to discover that there are quite a few people who are saving the newspaper articles, and are fans of the Garden. When they finally visit the Garden, they tell me how important it is to them, and it seems that it is.

Our weather has been mild. The evenings are cool and pleasant. Normally, stepping outside is more like entering an oven.

I had to laugh at myself last night. A man had a camera and out of the corner of my eye I saw him taking pictures, but I was busy talking with people and was not thinking. I asked him what kind of film he was using, to take photographs in the dark! I suppose I shouldn't tell too many people about that.

I asked his wife about that site in Chicago, when she told me they were from there. Possibly you know all about it, but I called you around a year ago with a scanty idea of where it is. These people say it is in "old town" south of Lincoln near Wells. They said there are four apartments and the backyard. They found the artist who did the work in New Mexico and brought him back to Chicago to renovate one or all of the apartments. The man (the photographer) knew of someone who made a video of the place. I told him I would give my eye teeth for a copy of the video, and he seemed to think that he could get one for me. If I do, I'll let you know. I just looked back at my notes, and they gave me the name Edgar Miller and they said that the apartments were done between 1927 and 1932.

Some other people told me about a lady in Prescott, Betty Simon. I may have heard about her before. I've been told that she has ponds and also does some work with concrete and rocks. I will follow up on it.

See ya'!
