

Shakespeare

Tennyson

Poe

Whittier

Longfellow

The Pageant of Poetry

PACIFIC PRESS PUBLISHERS
Donald Grant, Managing Editor

816 SO. ROBERTSON BLVD.
LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

June 14, 1941.

Art Beal
20 Jones St.,
San Francisco, Calif.

Dear Mr. Beal:

Was most pleased to receive your signed publication agreement and remittance of $3.00 for the publication of your poem, A VOICE SO SWEET.

As you know, I found three of your other poems worthy of publication in this volume and I sincerely trust that you will place at least one more of them for publication. No doubt you will recall that if you have two poems published we make a special price for the two...$5.00. And thus another $2.00 would place a second poem in this volume and would give you two copies of the book for your own personal use. Would appreciate your immediate reply in this regard.

The PAGEANT OF POETRY will go to press some time this fall and you will be duly notified of the publication date and of the winner of the grand prize.

My congratulations to you and many thanks for your fine spirit of cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

Donald Grant
Donald Grant

DG/de