Dear Mr. Bechtol,

Thank you so much for sharing your most wonderful article on the environments in San Antonio. I had a mini tour of San Antonio many years ago and was part of a group of people that folklorist Pat Jasper took to a couple of sites. From your article I gather there were a lot of places she didn't know about. Good for you.

If you wouldn't mind, I would like to give your name to friends at the Orange Show Foundation in Houston. I assume you are familiar with the Orange Show? They are interested other places in Texas and I'm sure would like to know of your good works.

I have enclosed some information about SPACES which I hope will give a sense of what we do. If we peak your interest, please consider joining us and helping save a bit of America.

We will be adding your article "Home is where the art is" to our archive in a too small Texas folder. We hope you are still involved in the documentation of this stuff.

Our best,

Seymour Rosen
Director
