Dear Seymour and Terri,

Thank you so much for the lovely note and list of sites you have records of in Iowa. I'll be visiting two of them next week - I knew of all but the Roman (Tosone's) art in Centerville. Unfortunately, they tell me a Little Bit of Heaven in Davenport has been torn down! I will double check on this.

I've had calls since the enclosed article that have led me to two sites in Southern Iowa (West Burlington) and one near Waterloo at Gilbertville. I'll be visiting those and photographing them and doing interviews next week - It should be fun. I'll be in Los Angeles June 22-28 and would love to come by and talk to you and look at some of your files on the Iowa sites you have. Do you have regular hours you are open - days, etc?

Could you drop me a note about a good time - or I'll just call when I get Mer.
Also, I've been to Watts Towers (and will go again) but if there are any ~~other~~ other sites near L.A., my sister and I are planning some excursions (she lives in Venice), I'd love to ~~hear~~ hear your suggestions.

I've been in touch with the Kohler Foundation and am attempting to contact the Kansas Grassroots Organiz. - about individuals who have done restoration - who could give us an estimate. If you have any people you recommend (near Iowa) that would also be useful information! (on and info on getting grants for restoration) I look forward to meeting you both!

Sincerely,

Jan K. Moran
