Dear Sir, or to whom it may concern:-

I am a member of the International Inventor's Forum, and have of which I think is the longest range weapon of protection yet conceived and devised.

It can be placed on board ship as well as motor transit and stationary.

Planes can fly far up in the air out of reach of gun fire for observation to detect its course and mission.

As far as I know, there are only three persons who know of this idea.

I conceived the idea Oct. 13, 1938,
One person a Chinese, who
