There are some sites we know about that might fit into your proposal. A few are well known—some might be destroyed by this time. A number I have no information on except that they once existed in the town. We would be very interested to gain some new and current information. I would be happy to share the information with you, if you put some energy into filling out our survey form as best you can and if you will share some photos with us. Copyright would of course, be yours.

We would also be very interested to see some photos on the graveyards that you have already taken. Do you shoot color, b&w, both?
