Dear Mrs. Wolfer:

Nancy Worden <sup>felt</sup> said you were a little uncomfortable about some of the questions on our survey form. That is quite understandable. I imagine it is strange having people whom you have never heard of asking personal questions - so I would like to tell you about SPACES.

SPACES is a 12 year old preservation organization interested in identifying and honoring people like you and your husband who have created wonderful environments like Eglemont Rockeries. We deal with these places all over the country. Most of our work is done with volunteer efforts of people like Nancy who want to make sure that a proper record is kept of what we believe is exciting and beautiful art.

SPACES does not charge for its services to the artists or their families in trying to protect and preserve a life's work or write a history about it. In California, we helped bring honor to individual artists by working with the State Office of Historic Preservation and successfully nominated ten sites as State Landmarks. We try to do the same with other states - but we must have the proper facts.

I have shown slides of Eglemont Rockeries all over the country and I would certainly like to have the correct information to share with people. When I first heard of your place someone thought it was in the Northwest and built by someone named Wolffner, there is much incorrect information about you and your husband.

Enclosed is some other facts about SPACES which I hope will answer a few more questions.

Nancy, has kindly consented to do interviews for SPACES and I hope you will be comfortable to help her develop a proper history of Eglemont Rockeries.

I hope this letter finds you well. If you have any other questions please let me know.

Our best,

Seymour Rosen
Director
