

I am submitting a picture essay for your consideration. On a fishing trip to Voyageurs National Park, Minn. I discovered an environment called Ellsworth Rock Garden (rediscovered would be more accurate since the garden was well known in the 40's and 50's). It has taken a little over a year to track down information about Jack Ellsworth, But finally with the help of several local people I have the bare facts. If the story is of interest, please feel free to edit, or make suggestions on my copy.
