

Jo,

Re: the question of my car versus your movers... I am very sorry that I assumed the damage on the car had been done by your movers during their complex maneuverings exiting the parking lot.

I had my husband check the car, and he indicated that the damage had been done previously when it was parked on the street outside our house.

So, again, very sorry...I hope I did not cause you too much concern or trouble!

Thank you,

Marjorie (down the hall from you, #204)

Welcome to the Building....I hope the rest of your move goes well!

Marjorie
