Dear Mr. Di Rosa:

Thank you so much for seeing Michael Giudici and me on such short notice. I'm glad you had such a positive reaction to seeing photographs of John Giudici's environmental art piece. It is of course much more exciting in person and I hear Michael will soon be showing you the site.

Enclosed is some additional information about John ^{Giudici}. Little has been written about the site because of the ~~people's~~ wish for privacy.

The site currently has California Historic Landmark status which still may be applicable even tho the site is moved. I shall talk to the State Office of Historic Preservation about this and the possible placing of an historic plaque, if you wish.

To this end I will need some information on your foundation to pass on to the people in Sacramento.

We would like to mention your interest in the site in our next newsletter under production - if that is ok with you. No publicity will go out mentioning your name without your permission. Please let me know if we may include it in a story about SPACES good works with two other California sites. I would appreciate notice if you plan to mention your acquisition of the site.

I'm glad that SPACES was helpful in getting you and Michael Giudici together. I hope you enjoyed the book I left with you and that I may share more information on these wonderful places with you.

My best.

Sincerely,

Seymour Rosen
Director
