Photographers on Exhibit:

Amani Fliers, Seymour Rosen, Tim Elsey and Patti Marker-White

Amani Fliers prints are R-Type prints made from slides. We are so fortunate to have these images at this exhibit. The Bottle Village images are half of a project that Fliers did in 1979 comparing Watts Towers and Bottle Village. Fliers will be happy to provide a reprint of the originals to those interested in purchasing any of her images. The cost will be $75.00 for an archival mounted print.

Seymour Rosen's delightful black and white images are only a few from his personal collection. Rosen has collaborated with a number of other people on books about folk art. If you are interested in purchasing a reprint please leave your name with the docent.

Tim Elsey's prints are R-Type prints made from slides. Elsey's images are fascinating studies of the dolls in the Parade of Dolls and the mosaic flooring found throughout the village. Reprints are available please leave your name with the docent.

Patti Marker-White's images are all prints from negatives. Marker-White who is known for her use of light in her images, will be happy to make a custom reprint for you. The cost will be $60.00 for an archival mounted and white framed print. Unframed and mounted prints are also available for $40.00.

We wish to acknowledge the cooperation of the Preserve Bottle Village Committee, Simi Valley, CA. Many hours were spent in putting this show together by volunteers. We hope you have enjoyed the Light of the Bottles.
