Chris,

Aaron and I have spoken, and based on your representation of the situation as expressed in your emails on the subject, have come to the conclusion that you should go ahead with your plan to take possession of the nut collection and its related papers, subject of course to the Probate Judge's approval. Aaron did try to call the conservator, but did not reach him. He will now be tied up with other projects so won't try again. Nonetheless, it's ok for you to proceed. Keep me posted.
