Dear Mr. Schwindler:

Thank you for your interest and your support of SPACES. Unfortunately, we cannot provide you with a list per se of sites in Ohio as many are not open to the public.

There is, however, a site and a contact that may help you in your search. Donaghey's Memorial Park in Muskingum County is a National Register site, which contains statues of Civil War Generals and ^{v. it} Presidents. Open to the public as a campground, the site is located four miles west of Frazerstown. We also recommend you contact Louise Hines who is quite knowledgeable about Ohio sites, and is particularly familiar with Lewis Smith's work. Her address is: 425 N. Market St., Mineral, OH 44657.
