Dear Sirs:

Years ago we visited Possum Trot on the way to Calico Ghost Town in Yermo, CA. As we found the listing recently in the California Historical Landmarks book as landmark # 939, we decided to see it again. It was no longer there.

We confirmed this with the archeologist with the Bureau of Land Management's Barstow Way Station who said Possum Trot no longer existed and he had no idea what became of the folk art artifacts.

We were under the impression that a Historical Landmark offered some protection for the existence of a site. Perhaps you can help us in letting us know what happened to Possum Trot. Perhaps, where the items moved elsewhere?

Sincerely,
Paul and Nancy
