Eleanor Dickinson

Dickinson + I share many old friends - we have sort of known of each other for many years + have met.

Eleanor has for years gone to the South + video documented "folk artists" she has also produced a number of exhibitions + book on these people - Revival

Mays gave her a number of crosses for the shows - after the exhibit /19/ to she donated the crosses to the Museum of American History (Richard Albarn - Curator) + she gave other crosses to the State Museum in Nashville

She has extensive video footage on Mays (also Howard Finster who she introduced to Mays) ~~and~~ She reinforced Bill Henry's statement ^{that} about Mays wanted the ~~material~~ objects kept together unless designation already

She suggested that we (et al) buy the site + have the leisure to determine what needs doing

She has many contacts in the South that might be useful in protecting the site.

She will come up with some thoughts - names + send us a copy of Revival the book

We will send a mess of SPACES stuff.
